SCOTTDALE, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

It is a pleasure to make available to you the 1955 MENNONITE YEARBOOK with the statistical material revised and brought up to date. This issue contains the regular departments of articles, biographical sketches, statistical tables, church organizations, conference directory, and ministerial directory.

The MENNONITE YEARBOOK presents annually a statistical picture showing the church at work in various kinds of service in many parts of the world. These figures and facts come alive to us as we familiarize ourselves with the activities of thousands of consecrated men and women serving Christ and the church.

In addition, the complete list of ministers of the Mennonite Church and the Conservative Mennonite Church with years of birth and ordination is included in this year's edition. This listing last appeared in the 1949 MENNONITE YEARBOOK. Since the demand for this tabulation was rather general, it was revised and reprinted again this year.

Many of the users of the YEARBOOK are not fully aware of the extent of the material actually contained in it. We recommend that you as a user of this volume leaf through page by page and briefly scan the contents of each section. In that way you will familiarize yourself immediately with the resources of information found herein and save you much time when questions arise regarding the activities and life of the Mennonite Church.

The MENNONITE YEARBOOK is unique in its attempt to list a ministerial directory for all Mennonite bodies in the world. However, several of these Mennonite groups do have annual yearbooks containing ministerial directories.

The editor wishes to express his sincere gratitude for the co-operation and assistance of the heads, secretaries, statisticians, and other officers of the organization and committees of the church which provided the necessary data for the revision of this issue. He is especially grateful to Helen Trumbo who was fully responsible for the gathering, compiling, and preparation of the material for the printers. To the printers also a word of thanks is due for their prompt and efficient handling of the material in composition, proofreading, makeup, and printing.

The 1955 MENNONITE YEARBOOK will show increases all along the line in general church membership, Christian education activities, and in mission and congregational activities. We need to be thankful to God for this increase and pray that the growth of our fellowship with Christ and His Word will increase among us also.

Mennonite General Conference

J. Robert Kreider, Treasurer

The biennial meeting of Mennonite General Conference is planned to be held in August this year at Hesston, Kansas. The South Central Mennonite Conference and Hesston College will serve as hosts. This biennial meeting is to be a "mass" meeting, with delegate sessions and public addresses being held simultaneously during the day, and combined public sessions in the evening. Thus it will afford opportunity for constituents from all parts of the United States and Canada to meet in fellowship, to be drawn together in Bible doctrine and its Christian expression, to be challenged by the pertinent issues of our day, and to be drawn closer to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. At the same time, it will be possible for the delegate body to meet in business sessions to carry on the work of the conference.

Although Mennonite General Conference meets but once every two years, a considerable amount of work is done between sessions. The General Council met in Chicago, Dec. 3-4, 1953, for its regular fall meeting, to give counsel and guidance to the various committees working on the assignments they had received at conference and to make plans for work that needed to be done before the 1955 conference. On Oct. 1-2, 1954, General Council met again at the Laurelville Mennonite Camp. A special study conference on Child Evangelism was held in connection with this meeting. A third meeting is to be held in Chicago, March 28-30, 1955, and a fourth meeting will be held immediately preceding General Conference in Hesston, Kans., during August, 1955.

In these meetings of the General Council, representatives from each conference eligible for membership in Mennonite General Conference, together with a representative of each general board of the church and each standing committee or commission of General Conference, assemble to counsel with one another on matters pertinent to the work of the church and to carry out the assignments given them by General Conference. The opportunities afforded for frank and open discussion of the faith, practice, work of the church, and for fellowship have been greatly appreciated by all members of the General Council. These discussions have also proved to be of much benefit to every conference and board of the church through their representatives. The Executive Committee of Mennonite General Conference serves as a steering committee for the General Council as well as for the entire conference.

Between conference meetings, the Executive Committee is required to meet from eight to twelve times to make plans for the biennial meetings of General Conference, to arrange the agenda for General Council meetings, and to carry out other responsibilities and assignments given it by the General Council and General Conference.

In addition to the work of the General Council and Executive Committee, considerable work is done by the various standing committees of General Conference, and the special committees of General Council and of General Conference. The work of these committees is quite completely reported in the Mennonite General Conference Report published biennially following the meetings of conference.

A significant work of the General Problems Committee during the current year consisted in the preparation of a proposed declaration of commitment in respect to Christian separation and nonconformity to the world. The General Council has approved a recommendation of this committee that a study conference on nonconformity be held in connection with the spring meeting of General Council. It is further planned to hold a one day study conference on church organization and administration in co-operation with the Ministerial Committee. The Peace Problems Committee is actively following developments relative to the draft and I-W service, seeking to co-ordinate its work with that of the MCC and MRSC to make the total witness as effective as possible, and regularly seeks the counsel of General Council as the program progresses. These are but a few of the many areas of work under study by committees and the General Council of General Conference at the present time.

The financial requirements of Mennonite General Conference and her various committees for the current biennium are approximately $60,000. To raise these necessary funds, an annual appeal of 60 cents per member is made to every member conference, and an additional amount of 12 cents per enrolled pupil is requested of each Sunday School. Our constituent conferences and congregations are urged to give their faithful support to this work financially, not forgetting to remember each officer and committee member, as well as the total work, in fervent prayer.

The needs and challenges of our world today both in relief and mission activity require the united effort of all our constituency. Problems facing us as a result of militarism, the draft, secularism, materialism and all the forces of evil Satan can bring against us also indicate the need for counsel, united effort in indoctrination, and a consistent churchwide stand upon the principles of the Word of God. Mennonite General Conference can be a servant of our Lord, of His church as a body, and of each member, in the accomplishment of these purposes if we continue to offer our prayers to God on behalf of this work and are open to His leading all along the way. May we unitedly pray to this end continually.

Wadsworth, Ohio

In 1955 the Biennial Sessions of the Mennonite General Conference will be held on the Hesston College Campus, Hesston, Kansas, from August 23 to 26. Immediately preceding the General Conference sessions, the South Central Conference will hold its annual meeting, August 20-22.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

J. D. Graber, Secretary

The mission outreach of the Mennonite Church is organized on three levels: (1) congregational; (2) district; (3) general. These three channels of outreach should not be considered as being in competition. They rather complement one another. Each congregation should have its local mission outreach, whatever the project or projects might be, and should have the kind of a local organization that best serves this purpose. Likewise there are types of outreach that logically belong not to an individual congregation but to the district. The district conference, therefore, organizes a mission board to carry out these conference-wide mission objectives.

After the congregation and the district conference have both organized their witness outreach there is still a large and necessary field for the "General Mission Board." The usual functions of the General Board may be summarized as follows:

1. Administration of those institutions whose service extends beyond district conference limits and for which more or less church-wide support, financial and personnel, is required.
2. Mission and service programs in foreign countries since these represent the total Mennonite brotherhood and depend on church-wide support.
3. The administration of some city and rural missions as "pilot plants" seeking thus to assist district boards in the solution of problems always present in this type of mission outreach.
4. The promotion of missionary education and dissemination of missionary information.
5. The administration of all mission-related relief and service programs in the Church.
6. Radio evangelism.

During the year under review the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, often significantly referred to as "The General Mission Board," has tried to carry out its assignments in these several areas. Let us look at them one by one.

Institutions

The Board administers hospitals as follows: La Junta, Colorado (where the plant is Board owned); Greensburg, Kansas; Lebanon, Oregon; Rocky Ford, Colorado; and Glenwood Springs, Colorado (undergoing construction). It seems to be clear that the Board should not raise money in the church to erect hospital plants unless the people to be served are extremely poor and the community very backward. Since we have established something of a reputation in hospital administration we are already receiving more invitations to administer community built hospitals than we are able to staff. We are also convinced from experience that the fact that the community holds title to the physical plant does not in any way limit our service to the sick and injured and does not hinder our witness. Here there is opened for us a really large service and witness potential.

The Board administers and owns four institutions for the care of aged people: Rittman, Ohio; Eureka, Illinois; Froh Brothers Homestead near Sturgis, Michigan; and Rockome near Arthur, Illinois. The first three are more or less standard old people's homes where aged persons can live comfortably and happily. We are finding there is much to learn in making these homes places where old people are not merely sheltered, fed, and clothed, but where they have happy companionship and, more difficult, where they can still retain a sense of being needed and of doing something useful. It requires superintendents and matrons young in mind and outlook who have vigorous ideas and the courage to put them into practice.

Rockome is a place where retired church workers can live in comfortable cabins amid the beautiful surrounds of a seven-acre rock garden. The rock garden and adjoining farm of 208 acres was a gift to the Board for this purpose by Arthur Martin of Arthur, Illinois, and it is hoped retired church workers, missionaries, pastors, teachers, etc., will increasingly take advantage of the splendid opportunity for comfortable and satisfying living Rockome affords.

Child welfare institutions administered and owned by the Board are as follows: West Liberty, Ohio; Kansas City, Kansas; and Youth Village near White Pigeon, Michigan. The Board has had a Child Welfare Committee for a number of years on which interested and qualified laymen and women are giving a useful service. The buildings at both West Liberty and Kansas City were extensively repaired and renovated during the past few years. Progress is being made in getting more and better trained workers to meet the increasingly rising standards and demands of state and county child welfare agencies. It is hoped also to do much more by way of giving assistance to families throughout the church in the solution of their adoption problems and in making more of our good Mennonite homes available for foster care of children from broken homees. Youth Village is a summer camp for children mainly from Mennonite city mission Sunday schools of the surrounding area.

Foreign Missions

Foreign missions with their related service programs are administered in the following countries: Alaska, Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Cuba, England, France, India, Israel, Japan, Puerto Rico, Sicily, Uruguay. This represents a fairly wide and representative outreach into foreign lands and cultures. The problems of foreign missions are increasing as the political complexion of the world changes. Missions thrived under the old colonialism in the days of the great empires. Now these empires are no more and foreign missions in these lands are faced with the necessity of making radical and far-reaching adjustments. The concept of a foreign mission being but the agency for establishing an independent self-governing, self-supporting, and self-propagating church is the dynamic solution of the new foreign mission situation. Winning the unevangelized millions of these so-called mission lands is more and more conceived of as being the task of the indigenous or national church. As rapidly as possible the missionary becomes the agent or servant of that new church which he may in the first instance have founded.

City and Rural Missions

The Board administers city and rural missions in the following places: Canton, Ohio; Chicago, Illinois (Bethel, Home Mission and Mexican); Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Michigan; Kansas City, Missouri; La Junta, Colorado; Lima, Ohio; Mathis, Texas; Peoria, Illinois; Saginaw, Michigan; Black Mountain Mission, Chinle, Arizona; Camp Rehoboth, St. Anne, Illinois; and Culp, Arkansas. Here also the objective of church building is beginning to emerge more clearly. We have been fairly successful in operating missions but our success in establishing independent churches is not so good. The difference is much more than one of mere name when we say that we must learn to establish churches rather than missions.

Publicity and Promotion

Publicity and promotion of missions is the concern of an entire department of the Board organization. In spite of the fact that the Board releases much more and much better mission publicity than formerly, yet everywhere there are those who tell us the church at large does not know what the program of the Mission Board is. There is the Missions Section of the weekly, Gospel Herald, publicity in other church periodicals, fall and spring Missionary Day bulletins, Board Annual Report, Mission-Service News-Letter, Mission study courses, sets of slides, and occasional bulletins and releases. So great is the pressure of other publicity that much of this effort apparently is ineffective. But the church needs more rather than less information.

Relief and Service

Relief and service effort of our church that is mission-related is by Board decision administered by the General Board, and in a few instances by district boards. It is becoming more obvious as our experience in this area grows that a service program naturally grows into a mission and into a church if it is not already attached to a definite mission and church outreach. We are very happy for this apparent fruitfulness of the service program and for the evangelistic vision of our Mennonite young people. The Relief and Service program is reported in fuller detail in another article on following pages.

Radio Evangelism

Radio Evangelism now also constitutes a section of the Board's activity. "The Mennonite Hour" administered through a Radio Evangelism Committee thus becomes the voice of the church at large. The program has grown greatly in scope and coverage during the year under review and is, we believe, an effective witness before the world.

"Luz y Verdad" (Light and Truth) is the name of a Spanish language broadcast originating in Puerto Rico. This broadcast is heard over stations in a number of Spanish-speaking countries and is beamed into Spain itself from neighboring Tangiers.

Finances

A program of such magnitude requires funds. In this respect 1954 has been a crisis year. Our expenditures have exceeded contributions until it became evident that unless more contributions could be realized the program would need to be curtailed. The Board Executive Committee felt the church should be given an opportunity to face these facts before a retrenchment was made. Missions Week was, therefore, organized December 5-12, and as the year ended the results of the special effort to wipe out the deficit and get the giving of the brotherhood on a more systematic basis were awaited with interest and concern. We believe the Mennonite Church desires more, rather than less, missionary outreach and that the brotherhood will make the sacrifices necessary to achieve this objective.

Elkhart, Ind.

Mennonite Relief and Service Committee

Boyd Nelson, Secretary for Relief and Service

The Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities administers its relief and service through the Relief and Service Committee. Relief and Service Committee policies are guided by the Board, and its administration is part of the total administrative organization of the Board.

As the general relief and service organization of the Mennonite Church, MRSC directly operates voluntary service and I-W services programs.

I. Relief and Refugee Aid

Its foreign relief, refugee aid and resettlement, and PAX work, as well as some aspects of I-W services and voluntary service, are carried on as part of the inter-Mennonite program of the Mennonite Central Committee. For the nature of the MCC program participation, see the MCC report.

In addition an emergency relief fund is kept on hand at all times for the use of our foreign or home missionaries in cases of local disasters.

A more complete report on all MRSC activities will be found on page 98 of the 1954 Report of Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

II. Long-term Voluntary Service

The MRSC voluntary service program continues to grow and expand as the draft continues to call young men. Others feel the call to this type of service, and the conviction of the importance of this service grows in our brotherhood. There were approximately 165 workers in voluntary service (Nov. 1, 1954) of which approximately 50 per cent were I-W men. Six basic concepts around which voluntary service is organized and toward realizations of which the staff continues to work are as follows: Christ-centered, church-directed, mission-minded, service-motivated, fellowship-minded, and growth-concerned. Only as these goals are achieved in balance with one another can we feel that our voluntary service program is successful. VS personnel are listed under Church Organizations in this Yearbook.

Foreign Service

Five workers serve in foreign assignments. They teach in schools, serve in leprosy homes, and do mission construction work. Most are lent to other organizations and are supported on a basis similar to PAX men or earn sufficient money to pay their expenses.

Community Service Projects

Puerto Rico: Plans for the year 1955 include the beginning of the new Aibonito Mennonite Hospital with government financial aid. Medical services in 1955 will include hospital, clinic, and sanitation services. The farm continues witness and aid to the farmers with demonstration, breeding and hatching services, and help on problems. Mission property maintenance is a unit service. Community service also includes recreational and educational activities. Five workers are on loan to El Hogar del Nino and Casa de Salud, children's Homes.

Navaho Migrant Unit: The Navaho unit continues service in nursing, Bible study, and recreation.

Mathis, Texas: Service includes home building, maternity home operation, kindergarten, recreational leadership, and mission participation.

Hospital Units

Kansas City, Mo.: In addition to serving the City General Hospital as orderlies and nurse aides, the Kansas City VS-ers services include children's recreation, Bible classes and club; center facilities for the I-W men and other Mennonite young people; and assistance in the work of the Mennonite Gospel Center.

La Junta Mennonite Hospital and Sanitarium: The La Junta unit works in the hospital as orderlies; aides; housekeepers; laundry, office, and kitchen workers; and maintenance men, also carrying plus service and witness activities, with some deputation work to nearby Mennonite churches.

Kiowa County Memorial Hospital Unit: Two girls serve in this Board-operated hospital as aides.

State University of Iowa Medical Service Unit: Twelve workers are serving in the unit home at University Hospitals or the University Hospital School for Handicapped Children. They have opportunities to serve the sick and handicapped from all over Iowa with a distinctive concern of Christian love, to witness to the students on the large SUI campus, to participate in the work of the Mennonite Mission Church and in the Mennonite Student Fellowship, and to help the numerous Mennonite employees of the Medical Service Units to realize their Christian witness more fully.

Homes for the Aged

Eureka Home for the Aged: At Eureka, Ill., five workers help to make the lives of the aged happier and smoother. They work on the farm, at maintenance work, in the kitchen, in the laundry, and in general service in the Home.

Froh Brothers Homestead: Three men work on the farm which includes a sizable dairy herd and over 500 acres of farm land, while eight others serve the guests of the home in various capacities.

Other Service Activities

Elkhart Board Headquarters: Several VS-ers are attached to the Elkhart office as secretarial staff and field workers for relief and service activities.

Hesston College and Bible School: VS-ers at Hesston enjoy all the advantages of life in the highly spiritual and intellectually stimulating environment of Hesston College in addition to contributing to the college program through service in the offices, kitchen, maintenance shops, and farm operations.

Other Church Institutions: A few workers are also serving in the West Liberty, Ohio, Children's Home, and the Braeside, Ontario, Home for the Aged. Here they serve as regular staff members, assisting to care for the aged or children, as the case may be.

City Missions: The mission stations of our district conferences as well as those of our general Board offer many opportunities for significant service. The work ranges from Sunday school, summer Bible school, and released time religious education classes in the public schools, to recreation leadership in boys' and girls' clubs, guidance of sewing classes, and janitor work in the mission buildings.

I-W Leadership and Homemaking Personnel: Four women serve full time in I-W centers as homemakers on a voluntary service basis making centers homes and helping groups of I-W men develop their fellowship.

Voluntary Service Orientation

To prepare workers for assignments in voluntary service, developing some sense of loyalty to an organized program and a commitment to the idealism from which it springs, orientation periods of ten days or two weeks are arranged as workers begin service. To learn to use the Bible as a tool for spiritual growth and problem solving to know our heritage as a Mennonite Church, to understand Christian group living, to grasp the implications of the peace testimony for our total lives, and finally to understand how they fit into the local unit and total program, are the purposes for such orientation. The classes meet in the Elkhart headquarters building, 1711 Prairie St., while meals are taken and most volunteers live at 1525 Prairie St., the voluntary service center.

Voluntary Service—Summer

In spite of the uncertainties of the draft and the economic situations, and the large numbers of men of the church already in I-W service, there were 94 volunteers serving in 21 units. MRSC also supported 18 volunteers in MCC summer service units.

III. I-W Services

Services to I-W men include leadership, assistance in helping I-W men to get organized to meet their own needs, educational service by developing high school credit arrangements and testing and counselling for vocational guidance, help in providing equipment and facilities for recreational and other group programs, publishing The Lantern, and in some cases, assistance in developing suitable living and eating arrangements which the men pay for.

I-W men have on the whole been excellent representatives for the church and for Christ. MRSC provides services not only to strengthen these front-line missionaries against temptations, but to help them so that they may be effective ambassadors for their Saviour. See Mennonite Relief Committee section under Church Organizations for the living and activity centers and the list of workers in I-W Services.

IV. Finances

The current (October, 1954, to March, 1955) MRSC budgets include the MCC support for the following things as indicated: relief, $2,500 monthly; refugee aid and resettlement, $1,500 monthly; voluntary service, $700 monthly; PAX, $2,400 monthly; MCC, I-W services $1,000 monthly, or a total of $8,100 monthly for MCC support.

For its own directly administered program, MRSC has budgeted approximately $8,000 monthly for voluntary service costs including administration, orientation and support for the 135 voluntary service workers in approximately 20 locations, and $2,500 monthly on services to I-W men.

Finances come from the relief and service offerings in local congregations. These offerings provide a systematic base of support for MRSC and MCC operations. Congregations which do not take these offerings are urged to do so in order that they may share in the ministry to physical need and suffering, the provision of service opportunities for those who feel called to serve in this way, and the church's services to its I-W front-line missionaries. An average of 50 cents per member per month will be adequate for carrying on this program.

Elkhart, Indiana

Peace Problems Committee

Paul Peachey, Secretary

The year 1954 saw the peak in the I-W program in its present form, with nearly 1,400 men from the Mennonite Church in service (AS and VS) out of a rough total of some 4,000 CO'S in the country. Late in the year large numbers were receiving releases, their two-year term having been completed. Unless or until the current drafting system is revised, the number of men in service at one time will not again reach this total.

The Mennonite Relief and Service Committee at Elkhart continued to carry the major responsibility throughout the year for the church's services to I-W men, with exception of negotiations with Selective Service, which were carried on as heretofore by the Mennonite Central Committee. The pastoral services which were assigned to the Peace Problems Committee were carried out by the I-W office of the MRSC, under sponsorship, however, of the former committee. Robert Keller, of Sterling, Ill., on leave of absence from pastoral responsibilities, served as co-ordinator of I-W pastoral services. While actual pastoral work as a matter of policy was done where possible by ministers from the congregations or district conferences from which the I-W men had come or within whose territory they worked, considerable co-ordination and supplementary care were needed to be certain that all men were adequately reached. Keller also edited a biweekly paper called The Lantern, and printed by the E.V. Publishing House at Nappanee, Ind. This paper was designed to stimulate the spiritual life of the men in service, by provocative articles vital to their experiences, devotional aids, book reviews, etc.

In the course of the year it became clear that the distinction made originally between pastoral services (the PPC responsibility) and the nonpastoral (the MRSC responsibility) breaks down in actual practice. Furthermore, the pastoral program as in operation had cost the PPC over $3,000 in less than eight months of operation, which exceeded the resources of the committee as normally allocated. In view of these considerations the Peace Problems Committee at the annual meeting held on Nov. 20, 1954, turned over the pastoral services to the MRSC for complete integration into the other services, while the PPC will now serve only in an advisory capacity. This decision was also related to further modifications in administration as related to MCC whereby local conferences and congregations will be asked to assume more responsibility for I-W men in their areas.

In March, 1954, a draft census was undertaken by the Mennonite Research Foundation at the request of the MRSC I-W Services and the PPC. Its purpose was to collect significant data regarding our young men of draft age, notably their present conviction regarding military services. The young men were to be reached through the pastors, but by November many responses were still outstanding. Results to date indicate a marked improvement in nonresistant convictions among our youth as compared to the World War II record.

Of further major interest during 1954 was a study conference of Brethren, Friends, and Mennonites, convened by the Continuation Committee of the Historic Peace Churches on July 15-18 on the campus of Bluffton College, Bluffton, Ohio, with an attendance of nearly 150. Representation from the various Mennonite groups was handled by the MCC, with about 50 Mennonites participating. Of these, 15 came from the Mennonite Church. The conference theme was: The Meaning of Christian Love. Several addresses were given, including one by a nonpacifist from another denomination, but most of the conference was devoted to discussion in small groups. The exchange of views was significant, both because of progress made in the understanding of peace problems and because the conference provided a number of participants their first opportunity for an encounter of this kind.

The annual peace essay contest for high school students was again conducted, with fourteen students from seven Mennonite high schools entering. First prize went to Paul M. Shrock of Western Mennonite School (Oregon), who received $5 in cash and a copy of Hershberger's, War, Peace and Nonresistance.

With the transfer of the I-W pastoral services responsibility to the MRSC, the Peace Problems Committee can again direct its attention more to the promotion of the peace conviction both within and without the brotherhood. The present available literature is being studied in view of present needs and plans are under way for renewed literary production. A survey conducted among I-W men indicates that literature of a more popular nature is needed and that greater effort must be made to assist youth in meaningful reading. Other efforts will include study conferences and considerations of problems arising regarding nonresistance and mission work. For present committee membership see Peace Problems Committee in Church Organizations section.

Mennonite Publication Board

E. C. Bender, President

The Mennonite Publication Board began its work forty-seven years ago. The chief function of the Board is being carried out by the Mennonite Publishing House. The growth of this physical plant during these years is an index of the growth of its work. The first building used at Scottdale as a printing plant, which later became the Mennonite Publishing House, was a frame construction 18 x 32 feet. This was later enlarged to 30 x 40 feet. When the Mennonite Publication Board began its work in 1907, a three-story brick building, 40 x 70 feet, was erected. In 1921-22 the need for larger facilities was supplied by a tile building, 80 x 110 feet, three stories above basement. In 1949 the housing was further enlarged by a 72 x 88 brick addition, two stories above basement. The offices, printing plant, bindery and bookstore are now housed by the 1922 and 1949 structures. The two older buildings are still owned by the Publication Board but are used for apartments.

Naturally with the growth of the physical plant the number of employees kept enlarging. From a mere handful of workers there are now 150 persons on the payroll. The capital and annual sales have grown from the hundred and thousand dollar figures to over a million dollars. From one small bookstore at Scottdale there has developed in its place a modern up to date store and five branch stores at Lancaster, New Holland, and Souderton, Pa.; Kitchener, Ont.; and Goshen, Ind. The list of House publications has grown from one to nine. Besides these, there is a regular young people's Bible meeting quarterly, six Sunday-school lesson quarterlies, a graded lesson series for preschool pupils, a full course of summer Bible school materials from kindergarten to the tenth grade, and a tract service distributing approximately six million tracts annually. There is also a growth in the publication of books. The number of titles annually is about a dozen. Mention, too, should be made of about twenty other papers which are printed for various church organizations.

This growth has brought with it problems of organization and administration. For the last several years the Board has devoted considerable time in this direction. Trying to operate the Publishing House with a true brotherhood philosophy for our employees, makes a smoothly running organization difficult. This is especially true since the Publishing House operates competitively in the world. However, much progress has been made toward effecting a smoothly running, efficient organization.

The Mennonite Publication Board is a nonprofit Corporation. No profits are permitted to accrue to any individual. But because of the nature of the Publishing House operations, a margin is necessary for maintenance and replacement of present facilities and also for expansion. For the last several years this margin has been growing smaller to the extent that the close of 1954 will show very little, if any, profit. The Board is aware that this situation needs to be corrected for a healthy growth and is working in that direction.

Book publishing is a major financial problem for a constituency as small as ours. There are books written by Mennonite authors in response to specific needs. To sell these books to our people, they must be priced competitively. The volume of sales for some of these books is so small that the cost is considerably above receipts. This of course is not true of all titles. Some sell in numbers large enough to cover cost and give a small margin. The decision between publishing the book our people should have and that which they will buy is not always easy.

Sensing the book publishing problems of the Board, our Publishing Agent called a Book Publishing Study Conference at which the following subjects were discussed:

1. The Four Phases of House Publishing and the Constituencies We Serve.
2. What Is Involved in Book Publishing?
3. A Survey of our Book Publishing.
4. Book Needs: History and Peace.
5. Book Needs: General Conference, Music, Publishing Committee.
6. Book Needs: Missions and Relief.
7. Book Needs: Curriculum Committee.
8. Book Needs: As an author, Publication Board, Executive Committee, General Problems Committee.
9. Problems of Distribution.

Each subject was introduced by a person well informed in that field. Open discussion followed. This was a very valuable conference. In addition to the speakers representing the above aspects the attendance included the members of the Board Executive Committee, the House Administrative Council and representatives of the Editorial and Sales divisions. A Findings Committee was appointed to prepare a report for guidance in the formation of a policy.

During the last year considerable time and study have been given to the possibility of producing graded Sunday-school materials for our own people and possibly the General Conference Mennonites. By the close of another year definite decisions should be reached.

Good progress has been made in improving the Finance Division of the House since we again have a full-time Treasurer. It is hoped that by the perfecting of an accurate costing system and the setting up of budgets much can be done toward improving the total efficiency of the House.

The Publication Board consists of thirty-two members: twenty-three members elected by district conferences; five members at large elected by the Board; three members elected by General Conference; and the Publishing Agent, member ex officio. This Board meets annually. The business of the Board is carried on during the year by its Executive Committee. This committee consists of E. C. Bender, President; Clarence Lutz, Vice-President; Harold Zehr, Secretary; Don Kreider, Financial Agent; and John C. Wenger, Fifth Member.

The Publishing House is administered by A. J. Metzler, Publishing Agent, through his division heads as follows: Editorial, Ellrose D. Zook; Finance, Joseph R. Buzzard; Production, Ralph Hernley; and Sales, Paul Shank.

Mennonite Board of Education

Harry A. Diener, Vice-President

The year 1953-54 has been a growing year for the educational interests of the Mennonite Church. The Mennonite Board of Education is sincerely grateful to the Lord for the many blessings He has bestowed on the work during the year. We would not say that there have been no difficult problems, but we would give Him praise that He has kept us from many reverses that might have come our way had it not been for His guiding hand.

We are also grateful to the administrative and teaching staffs of the three schools directly under its control, Goshen College, Hesston College, and La Junta School of Nursing, for the Christian way each one has assumed his work and served in building Christian character for the Lord.

We are indebted also to the students who attended these schools, who made good use of the opportunities that were given them to grow in knowledge and usefulness for God. And to the church and parents we owe a debt of gratitude for their prayers, their good will, their children, and their means which support this large program.

The Board through the Educational Council has endeavored to be alert to the whole educational program of the church, and to provide encouragement, counsel, and co-operation for all our schools. It is gratifying to note the large place Eastern Mennonite College is filling in the church, the growth of conference high schools, and the increasing interest in Christian day schools. Bethany Christian High School, located near Goshen College, an Indiana-Michigan Conference project, and Christopher Dock Mennonite High School, Lansdale, Pa., in Franconia Conference, both opened their doors in the fall of 1954. The large initial enrollments of each of these schools indicates both their need and the interest in them. May the Lord give them success in their service for Him to the young people who attend there. This growth in expansion of the schools already established and in establishing new schools keeps before the Board the constant problems of personnel and finances.

The assets of the Board have continued to increase so that the total worth is now over $2,000,000. The securing of properties, the adding of buildings, and the providing of equipment and the maintenance of plants occupy the services of many persons. A careful look at the annual report of the treasurer indicates in part the effort it takes to secure, invest, appropriate, and account for the funds of the schools and board. O. O. Miller, for many years financial agent of the Board, stated in his annual report that in his opinion the financial situation is now the most satisfactory in the history of the Board.

For many years the annual meeting of the Board was held at, or near, Goshen, Ind. In the recent past it has been held in other sections of the church. This year, 1954, it was again held at Goshen College. It gave opportunity for the Board to convene on the campus of the school while it was in operation. It gave opportunity for personnel from other schools to visit the college. It was a time of mutual sharing of board members, school administrators, teachers, and others who are occupied in church programs.

On August 9 Paul Mininger took over the respsonsibilities of president of Goshen College. Appropriate inaugural services were held at the time of the annual meeting, Oct. 14-17, 1954, at Goshen College. This gave opportunity for most of the members of the board to be present at this important occasion. Brother Mininger has served a number of years as teacher in the seminary and other positions in Goshen College as well as many other church interests outside the College. We believe his consecration and preparation fit him well for the task to which he has been called. May the Board, the staff, and students of Goshen College and the church unite in giving their support of Bro. Mininger so that his opportunities of service may be enlarged.

I feel that it is appropriate to say a few words of appreciation for the fourteen years of sacrificial service E. E. Miller gave to the church as president of Goshen College. Perhaps few folks have taken time to think of the faithful and devoted service Sister Miller gave in supporting and encouraging Bro. Miller in his many duties. During his service the college grew in plant expansion, in accreditment, in student enrollment, in enlarged staff, and in service to the church. May the Lord give to them satisfying joy in the blessings of the past and many years of fruitful service in His kingdom.

Hesston College is pressing forward in its three-year expansion program. The first year was closed with nearly reaching the year's anticipated goal. Justus Holsinger, who served for a year as acting dean, was installed as dean of the college in an appropriate chapel service on Oct. 21, 1954. The South Central Conference has shown its interest in Hesston College in encouraging the college to make plans for a four-year college. The Board has also given encouragement to the plan by authorizing study and planning to that end. It is the prayer of all Hesston friends that the Lord may lead in these plans for the best place Hesston College can serve in His kingdom.

La Junta School of Nursing received a good sized class of students this fall. The new hospital at Rocky Ford, Colo., adds opportunity for clinical service to the school. The large need for Christian nurses gives encouragment to this worthy effort.

The Board has had constant concern for the young people of the church who are taking advanced work in graduate schools. Few of these schools are so located that the students can attend one of our congregations for worship and Christian fellowship. This concern has developed in providing a center in Philadelphia, Pa., for those who are attending graduate and professional schools in that area. We hope that this center may be of much blessing and service to many. But Philadelphia is only one among the many places where increasing numbers of our young people are exposed to the temptations of an unbelieving, commercialized civilization. We pray that they may return to fill the many places of service in our church institutions and go out into the world with a service motivated by Christ their Saviour.

Only as we look to the Lord for strength and direction can we go forward in this demanding program of education. Census figures indicate a growing population, a trend showing a need for more schools. Present trends indicate more centralization of government operated schools. The pressure for sports is not decreasing. Our young people are facing the demand for highly trained workers. In several areas of the world many are in great need both physically and spiritually. These sobering facts present to the church of today the need for a consistent Christian witness through Christian education.

May we through our schools give ourselves to Christ, to our young people, and to a lost world.

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education

J. J. Hostetler, Secretary-Treasurer

Organization

The Commission is an organization under Mennonite General Conference to study and promote conference Christian education and workers' organizalevel. Close co-operation is maintained with district conference Christian education and workers organizations. The Commission meets twice each year, and every second year representatives from the district areas are invited in for mutual understanding and sharing of concerns. Such a biennial meeting was held last fall at Laurelville Mennonite Campground.

The work of the Commission is divided into the following categories of service with a secretary in charge of each:

Organized Teaching Agencies—Sunday schools, summer Bible school, weekday Bible school, church camps.

Planned Educational Functions—Christian workers' training program, mission study courses and projects, church and Sunday school music.

Area Activities—for the juniors, for the young people and MYF, for the adults and lay workers, for home and family living.

The Field Secretary serves as the co-ordinator of all the secretaries and assists in the general planning and promotion of the work. Many of these areas require materials such as lesson helps, teachers' guides, manuals, etc., for use in study and teaching. A Curriculum Committee, chosen conjointly with the Publication Board, plans and supervises the preparation of such materials. Many of the district conference organizations have workers related to these various divisions of service for close co-operation.

Special Concerns

Often there arise problems and concerns that involve all or most areas of work in Christian education. Some of these in recent years have been: child evangelism, audio-visual aids, Christian recreation, and the nature and place of the Sunday evening service. Special studies and research assignments are carried on by persons having special interests, experience, or training in such respective areas.

Child Evangelism

After considerable study and research a special conference on child evangelism was held last fall at Laurelville Camp following the Commission meeting. The General Council of General Conference, representatives of our district conference Christian education groups, and special interest people were invited to participate in this meeting. While the studies and findings are not final, this conference did help to clarify our thinking as to the nature of conversion, baptism, church membership, and Christian nurture before and after conversion. It has become evident that the age of accountability, before which true conversion cannot take place, is usually in later childhood or early adolescence. Further studies will need to be made.

Audio-visual Aids

The Commission is co-operating with the Mennonite Publishing House and the I-W services program in sponsoring a research study in the use of audio-visual aids. Criteria for the proper evaluation and use of these aids have been in process of preparation from the standpoint of Christian nurture. The final or completed criteria should help our Christian education work in the local churches to guard against the misuse of such materials while taking advantage of their respective educational values.

Christian Recreation

A study on the Christian philosophy of recreation is being made by a special committee. This problem is vitally related to our local congregations and church communities. Because of its implications the General Council of General Conference, and the Educational Council of the Board of Education, have been asked to participate in this study.

Sunday Evening Service

Many local congregations and leaders of district conferences have expressed concern for this service. The pattern varies in accordance with location and custom, as well as with persons who are responsible. The attendance and interest have largely concerned many. An exhaustive study has been authorized to determine what help might be useful. Since it often involves the preaching service, the General Council has been asked to give some attention to this need.

New Lesson Materials

For a number of years the Publication Board and the Commission have authorized the planning of graded lesson materials for use in the Sunday schools. This is a tremendous task and involves much time and energy. Preschool materials were planned a few years ago and are in the process of being written and published. One of these courses has been completed and is in use, Kindergarten I. During the past year the Curriculum Committee, conjointly with other users of our materials, the General Conference Mennonite Church, prepared a new series of objectives for Christian Education. This was then followed by a series of projected outlines for graded Sunday school and weekday Bible school lessons, up to and including young people. Much work needs to be done in refining and carefully balancing and integrating these outlines before they can be assigned to writers. This project will require much time by our Curriculum Committee. The prayers and patience of the church will be needed while this work goes on.

Major Emphasis

This year the Commission is emphasizing "Christian Nonconformity" as an essential factor in our education program. A series of simultaneous conferences on this theme are being planned for many of our church centers the third week end of September. A new lesson quarterly entitled Youth and Nonconformity, with a series of thirteen lessons, has been prepared by John C. Wenger for use in our Sunday schools or midweek services. Articles on the subject will also appear during the year in our periodicals. The theme, "Knowing and Using the Bible," has been selected for emphasis during the year 1956.

Progress

The Sunday-school and summer Bible school enrollments continue to show a steady increase from year to year. More schools are also being established each year and mission outposts are being developed. The statistical reports section of the Yearbook provide many and encouraging factual data on all our Christian education work. Each year some congregations make possible Christian Workers' Training courses for their teachers, mission study courses for every member, music training for those who can participate. Mennonite Youth Fellowship, sponsored by the Commission, is increasing and serving the needs of our young people. Help is being provided for the juniors and laymen of the church. Christian education is vital to our church program and Christian living of each member.

However, much remains to be done in increasing the effectiveness of spiritual growth of every believer and reaching out with our teaching ministry. The Commission members seek the counsel and prayers of the brotherhood for guidance in their service to the church.

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

Ira D. Landis

On the threshold of sixty years of missionary activity, Lancaster Conference can truly praise the Lord for His blessing on the work. Due to fiery persecutions and privations of pioneer life in Europe and America, the church was satisfied with the saving of its own children. The modern missionary movement in Lancaster Conference began April 21, 1895, after the Mission Advocates were organized on Sept. 15, 1894.

The Board now is composed of 34 members having committees on Property, Material Aid, Tent, Mission Welfare, Jewish Evangelism, Missionary Examining, Nominating, and the Welsh Mountain Home. Today 78 missions are scattered from Yorks Corners, N.Y., to Tampa, Fla.; from New York City to Freemanville, Ala., 18 becoming established congregations.

These missions are staffed by 50 full-time and 800 part-time workers. Their Sunday-school enrollment is over 6,100 and the summer Bible school enrollment over 11,000. These missions are found in city, town, and country; in 24 counties and 6 states.

As of Jan. 1, 1955, there were 42 missionaries in Tanganyika; 35 in Ethiopia; 4 in Italian Somaliland; 13 in Honduras; and 7 in Luxembourg; a total of 101 missionaries; of this total 48 are from Lancaster Conference. Nineteen missionaries are on furlough. The foreign membership is now over 1,100.

During the year the treasurer handled $477,606.69 income and $455,856.93 in disbursements. A total of $80,742, in gifts-in-kind, money, and clothing, was donated to foreign relief and immigration.

Tanganyika

In Tanganyika the following publications have been issued: Mjumbe wa Kristo (Messenger of Christ, bimonthly), Tenzi za Rohoni (Spiritual Songs, a songbook in Swahili), and the Gospel of John in the Kuria language. A songbook in the Jita language is now in preparation.

In Tanganyika there are two girls' homes: the Bukiroba Girls' Home with 15 girls and 2 widows and the Mugango Girls' Home with 34 girls.

In the Musoma district are 7 primary schools and in North Mara are 5, with a total enrollment of 1,431. The total enrollment of the middle schools is 17 girls and 112 boys. The Mara Hills School is operated by the Board for the purpose of educating the children of the missionaries. The school has one teacher and offers grades one to eight.

The African Church has a membership of 1,028 with about the same number of catechumens under instruction. The African members are becoming more active in formulating polity and budgets.

Ethiopia

In Ethiopia, the Nazareth Hospital alone reported 2,821 admissions, 21,403 outpatients treated, 124 obstetrical cases, and 64 major and 226 minor surgical cases. Deder reported about two thirds as many similar cases. When the Wonji Hospital was opened in care of a Holland doctor, it was hoped the Nazareth Hospital would be relieved of some of its patients. This, however, has not been the case.

The Blind School has the promise of a 65 bed building instead of the present 40. It continues to enjoy the patronage of royalty and its services are increasingly in demand.

The Heges have produced a Harar Galla grammar. The school at Bedeno had forty pupils. In June, 20 graduates of the Nazareth Dresser School received primary dresser certificates from the Ministry of Public Health. The recovery of Daniel Sensenig, following a scooter-truck accident, came as an answer to prayer. British Somaliland is now open and could be reached from Dire Dawa.

Italian Somaliland

The Italian Somaliland, Mahaddei Uen on the Uebi Scebeli River, has been selected as the site for the second station and Leroy Shirk, Jr., will be on the field by February. The three workers are getting well acquainted with the language and the people.

Honduras

Jean Garber's entry into Honduras was very welcome, since they were without any medical care. With three others sent in or in language school they will soon be active in the work.

At Home

Baltimore, Yorks Corners, Kennett Square, Tamaqua, Ybor City, and the Florida migrant work have been supplied with local pastors. Tamaqua, New York City, York, Freemanville, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla., are new or in new quarters. Alsace Manor has erected a new meetinghouse.

The Mission Welfare Committee took 250 children from 17 missions for 2 weeks and placed them in 200 homes of our constituency. This project has been a real blessing to both groups.

The Sharon School in Ybor City, with a staff of 7, plans to add ninth grade next year. About 80 per cent of these children come from broken homes.

The Itinerant Evangelism Committee, a coexisting committee under Conference, carries on work in Morris Run, Pa., and in Decatur, Ga., Tampa, Fla., and elsewhere. The Crestview and Clear Spring work in Florida were transferred to our Board this year.

Voluntary Service has rendered appreciable service in summer Bible school work and other services both at home and abroad.

The Lord very graciously has not called many workers from our ranks during the year except George B. Stoltzfus and Esther Lehman. Their services were deeply appreciated at Coatesville and Christian Street, Lancaster.

Spanish work in Lancaster Conference is now on an annual basis. William G. Lauver relieved Isaac L. Frederick, and the Paul G. Landises are in language school in Puerto Rico, preparing for service here.

The Salunga meetinghouse, which is to become a permanent headquarters for the Mission Board and Conference, is now in final stages of planning and should be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1955. The Library and Archives are also being developed.

The Board opened a home for Negroes at 1910 W. Diamond St., Philadelphia, Pa.

As we look to the year ahead we are grateful to God for the past years which have provided rich and profitable experiences for our missionaries. The Board is constantly coming to a better understanding of its problems as its work spreads to various parts of the world. The Lord also has provided better trained and experienced persons offering themselves for mission service. Gen. 22:13, 14.

Bareville, Pa.

Mennonite Central Committee

Marion Kliewer, Director of Information Service

In 1954 Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches in the United States and Canada contributed $1,890,000 in cash and material aid for the relief and service program of their Mennonite Central Committee.

Through their agency for relief and other Christian services, American Mennonites and Brethren in Christ, who number approximately 200,000, touched needy persons in 24 countries during the past year. These services, carried out "In the name of Christ," were administered by more than 475 persons.

New ventures into which the Mennonite Central Committee entered during 1954 were the beginning of relief and rehabilitation services in Viet Nam in Indo-China and the initiation of the Ailsa Craig Boys' Farm, a Christian home for delinquent boys in Ontario. Another accomplishment was the opening of a third psychiatric treatment center, Prairie View Hospital, near Newton, Kans.

Relief supplies valued at $1,165,000 and weighing 1,130 tons were shipped to Austria, Formosa, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hong Kong, Indo-China, Java, Jordan, Korea, Mexico, and Paraguay. In addition to the distribution of food and clothing, relief work included medical services, refugee rehabilitation, child and orphan care, and assistance to various Mennonite brotherhoods.

Another phase of the foreign work was the rehabilitation services of drafted conscientious objectors in projects in 10 countries. More than 100 Mennonite and Brethren in Christ youths, known as PAX (peace) men, contributed their services in building housing for refugees, carrying out agricultural experiments and rehabilitating refugees. The most significant expansion in the PAX program was the assignment of 10 men to the R. G. LeTourneau industrial-missionary project in Peru.

In the alternative service program, Mennonite and Brethren in Christ groups called on their Mennonite Central Committee to strengthen its services to I-W men and co-ordinate their ministry to make sure every I-W man is served. This suggestion was implemented with the appointment of Albert M. Gaeddert as I-W services director. Brother Gaeddert spent most of his time visiting I-W men and working with constituent groups planning services geared to the long-term draft program.

In the Voluntary Service program in the United States and Canada, nearly 350 young men and women sought to make the love of Christ known as they served in mental and general hospitals, in homes for dependent and delinquent children and in community service projects. A keener interest in Voluntary Service on the part of I-O men points to a steadily expanding program in spite of heavier releases paralleling the rapid induction of I-O men two years ago.

In a world that has never had more need of the Gospel of peace, the Peace Section has continued its work of representing the nonresistant faith to the government, aiding young men in the obtaining of Selective Service classifications, and working with church groups to encourage interest in the Christian peace position in the church at large.

Mennonite refugees, whom the Aid Section resettles and seeks to establish into Christian communities, lost a beloved friend in the death of C. F. Klassen on May 8, 1954, in Gronau, Germany. His death apparently marked the close of the post-World War II Mennonite migration phase of Aid Section work. The Aid Section continues to assist Mennonites in Mexico and South America, to aid immigrants (particularly those interested in coming to the U.S. under the 1953 Refugee Relief Act), to sponsor the European trainee program, and to aid the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges in the selection and entry of foreign students.

This was the sixth year of service in the mental health field for the Mennonite Central Committee. Its three hospitals—Brook Lane Farm, Hagerstown, Md.; Kings View Homes, Reedley, Calif.; and Prairie View Hospital, Newton, Kans.—with facilities for caring for 110 patients at one time admitted nearly 450 persons during the year. A study was launched to determine the possibility of extending Christian psychiatric treatment services in the four-state area of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Ohio.

Mennonite Mutual Aid

H. L. Swartzendruber, Secretary

Gradually, since 1945, Mennonite Mutual Aid, an Indiana nonprofit corporation, has made an impact on the lives of many of the members of the Mennonite Church. This organization, sponsored by the Mennonite General Conference, is attempting to provide a channel through which more of our people can help each other through sharing what God has entrusted them. While many of the services offered are similar in nature to those offered by the commercial world, yet these programs are designed to give the Christian an expression of brotherhood in accordance with the Scriptural belief and doctrines of the Mennonite Church. A brotherhood program contrasts itself with commercial plans in that the basis is not profit but helpfulness, joy in assisting others not selfishness, Christian love for one's brother not an impersonal commercial transaction. As the members of the Mennonite church become more urban with weekly paychecks rather than a rural community as heretofore, Mennonite Mutual Aid is able to provide systematic methods so that the family can help itself and, at the same time, give help to others as need arises in a way in keeping with Mennonite historical practices and scriptural teachings. Following is a description of the activities presently carried on by the Mennonite Mutual Aid committee.

Mutual Aid Loans: A fund was established in 1945 by those interested in helping young people and others in need of loan funds to establish themselves in farming, business, or to provide modest housing where satisfactory local credit is not available and where the applicant's character and witness justifies assistance.

Investments: Various categories are open allowing investment of funds in the Mennonite Mutual Aid organizations so as to assist various young people or special projects. Some of these categories provide for interest income in various amounts depending on the purpose for which the funds are used and the length of time which the money is made available for that use.

Financial Counselling Service: Considerable time and effort is spent helping young people and others with financial problems or directing them to qualified counselors living in their vicinity. Too many of our people are living beyond their means so that when a slight reverse comes they are financially entangled and helpless. Someone has aptly said that our effective Mennonite witness in many of our communities is beclouded by the unchristian financial ethics and practices of some of its members. Since people come to Mennonite Mutual Aid after they are in financial difficulty, it is often impossible to repair the damage done. A positive program of teaching must be provided in our church to assist our people in understanding the various implications involved.

Refugee Loan Aid: No additional refugee loans have been made in the past three years. Repayment of principal and interest continues on funds previously loaned through the Mennonite Central Committee to our refugee brethren. The balances as reported in our statistical section are the net amounts due on these accounts.

Colonization: Mennonite Mutual Aid is interested in assisting, in whatever way possible, mass migrations of our people. The committee has not implemented any migrations, although various investigations of reasonable possibilities have been made.

Community Placement Service: At the time of this report results of only one group of advertisements placed in the Christian Living magazine can be evaluated. The response to these particular advertisements is very heartening. The result of placement of even one family into a new Mennonite community, needing the skills of a particular family not being used otherwise, is worthy of the efforts of this service.

Mennonite Aid, Inc.: By legal necessity the hospitalization, surgical, and burial aid sharing program was incorporated in 1950 as a nonprofit corporation according to Pennsylvania law. The members of the Board of Directors of this subsidary corporation are separate and have skills and interests necessary for the satisfactory operation of this plan. The membership in this organization continues to grow and the resultant blessings have been many as indicated from the response of the members. The membership is "going the second mile" by contributing to a Catastrophe Aid Fund to help those members of Mennonite Aid having extreme expenses because of sickness or death which have been only partially met by other sources and where additional financial assistance is actually needed. We believe there are many more in the church who should and will join this brotherhood sharing program.

The Mennonite Foundation: This Indiana nonprofit corporation was set up separately by Mennonite Mutual Aid to conform to the requirements of the Internal Revenue laws of the U.S.A. Contributions, which are deposited with The Foundation, are deductible on income tax returns and deposits may be directed to recognized charities at the donor's convenience. Various advantages in using The Foundation are apparent. A number of our Mennonite corporations and members having large incomes are availing themselves of the services of The Mennonite Foundation.

Other Services Planned: The Mennonite Mutual Aid Committee has approved a plan for systematic saving and an automobile aid plan. As soon as legal requirements are met, these will be announced to the church. Committees are studying the need and feasibility of plans for disability aid, widow's rehabilitation and property aid within the Mennonite Church.

The Mennonite Mutual Aid Committee is continually seeking methods of improving its programs so as to be equitable and helpful to all and to perpetuate the historic Mennonite practices of mutual aid in light of the times in which we are living and according to the Scriptures as taught in the Mennonite Church.

S. F. Coffman, 1872-1954

C. F. Derstine

Bishop Samuel Frederick Coffman, Vineland, Ont., was the son of an illustrious father, the pioneer evangelist, J. S. Coffman, Elkhart, Ind. He was born in Virginia, 1872 and reached the ripe age of 83. His sudden passing, June 28, 1954, was a keen loss, but his "works will follow him." He was a winsome Christian with a charming personality, a loyal churchman, a preacher of distinction, an apt Bible student and expositor, a warm-hearted friend with an engaging handclasp.

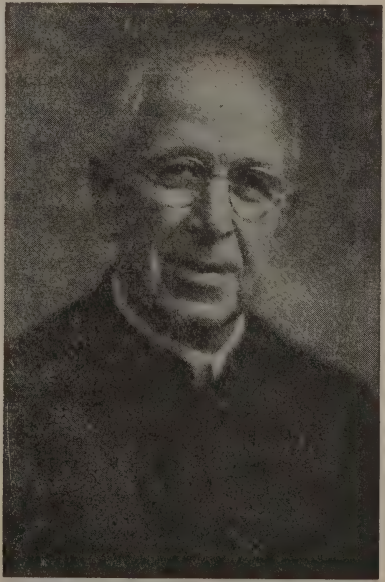
The Charming Home

He, with his wife, Ella Mann, turned their house into a home that was highly esteemed locally and by hundreds in all parts of the Dominion and the States. He was survived by five children: John E., London, England; David W., Beamsville; Lena, Barbara, and Ellen at home. In this home he moved with dignity but projected himself into the interest of children far and wide. He had a remarkable quality of enjoyment; he knew qualification of the right kind; he could see the humorous side of life. He detested off-color stories; he never told such, nor would he listen to them. Normally his countenance was vividly expressive; emotions of joy, amusement, pain, wryness—would race across his face in swift procession. If anyone dared tell an offensive or silly joke, that mobile face suddenly froze—deliberately and in obvious rebuke. He disliked gossip and abusive wisecracks about others. He was indeed a venerable Christian gentleman. The writer spent 25 years with him in Bible school teaching and school experiences, and does not have one unpleasant memory during this extended close-up fellowship. He was a congenial man of good-will.

His family—and friends alike—will continue to respect and hold him in high regard. It was a rare treat in life to know him. To know him, was to love him.

His Life Work

Brother Coffman gave unstintingly of his time and energy to the work of the church. He was a remarkable churchman in Mennonite circles. A partial list of places of service must suffice: Secretary of Mennonite Board of Education; Church Polity Committee; Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities;



Peace Problems Committee; Historical Committee; Mennonite Publication Board; Moderator of General Conference; Board of Nonresistant Relief; Colonization Board; Music Committee and many activities in the Ontario Mennonite Conference.

He had a stately appearance in the pulpit and out. His messages were simple and profound. He has been spoken of as a "Sinaitic glory" in the pulpit. He walked for years knee-deep in that glory. He truly preached Christ, His "finished work," His high priestly ministry on the throne. Bro. Coffman was ordained by Bishop John F. Funk, to serve in the city of Chicago. He was a good successor to both his father and the one who ordained him—both giants in the pulpit.

Bro. Coffman's longest assignment was that of Bible Study Editor on the editorial staff of the Christian Monitor. He held this position during the entire life span of the Monitor, January, 1909, until December, 1953. His expositions were sane, sensible, and Scriptural, and practically make an entire "Commentary of the Bible."

Probably his greatest contribution was the establishing of "Short-Term Bible Schools." These were the outgrowth of the Bible Conferences. The first school was founded at Kitchener, Ont. (Berlin, Ont.) in 1907. Today it is known as "Ontario Mennonite Bible School." This school seems to be for him a lasting monument of his vision, toil, and persistence. It was his "favorite child." As founder, teacher, administrator, and principal, he will be remembered long.

His past training at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill., taught him the valuable analytical method of Bible study. This method gave him a deep insight into the Scriptures. This method he drilled into hundreds of students.

Fond Memories

He will be remembered for his work in the production of the Church Hymnal; his love for singing in the home, church, and school. His radiant face expressed what he sang. He made an excellent contribution to hymnody in the song, "In Thy Holy Place."

The new science, "gerontology," a new evaluation of aged folks, finds in him a practical illustration. He exploded the monstrous fallacy that there is no place for "older folks," that men are too old at 40-50-60. True, some are born old, some age, and some never age. He belonged to the last group.

It was fitting that he went "home" after a busy day in the garden. He greatly appreciated the fresh air, sunshine, trees, planting seeds, and watching things grow. His last day was a busy one, and he made the transition with his "boots on." That was his life, full and happy. He walked from the outdoors into his home, seated himself in a chair, and then suddenly passed on. He was the one whom "I have loved long since, and lost awhile." What a reunion when we shall meet again.

One of his neighbors, a delightful Scot, with a lovely "burr" to her voice, expressed her sentiments so aptly. She said, according to Margery—his daughter-in-law: "God only makes one S. F. Coffman in a century, just to show how wonderful a human being can be, even in this age."

The poem by Mrs. Barbauld will help express our feelings in his passing:

"Life, we've been long together,
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather.
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear.
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;
Then steal away; give little warning;
Choose thine own time;
Say not, Good Night;
But in a brighter clime,
Bid me Good Morning."

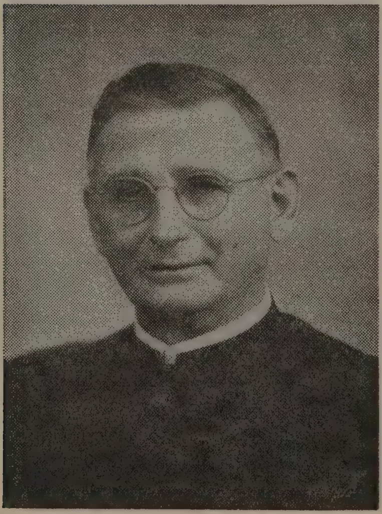
Henry R. Schertz, 1886-1954

Harold Zehr



The Metamora Mennonite Church had been looking forward to the return of their bishop from a short vacation in Florida but were stunned to learn that after having arrived home in apparent good health, he had had a stroke a few hours later, which took his life the next day, Feb. 9, 1954.

Henry R. Schertz was born on the Schertz homestead near Washington (Tazewell County) Ill., on Feb. 24, 1886, a son of Peter and Magdalene Esch Schertz. At the age of 15 he confessed Christ as Saviour and was baptized by Bishop Sebastian Gerig to become a member of the Metamora Amish Mennonite Church. This was the beginning of an active life for Christ and the Mennonite Church. He later said, "When about seventeen years of age I felt the Lord had called me to dedicate my life to His service but at that time it was not definitely revealed to me what that service should be."

He was one of the few Mennonite boys of his generation, living in that community, to attend high school, going to the Washington Public High School. As a young man he became active in the work of the Sunday school serving as superintendent for some time. In order to better prepare himself for his work in this capacity in 1908 he attended Moody Bible Institute.

On Feb. 5, 1917, he was ordained to the ministry by Bishop Andrew Schrock upon a call by the vote of his congregation. Soon after his ordination he took his wife and three sons to Chicago with him and began a course of study at the Bethany Bible School. This move was one that required vision and faith in light of the fact that few Mennonite leaders at that time saw a need for formal seminary training or were sympathetic with his decision.

He lived with his family in Chicago from 1919 to 1923 attending Bethany Bible School parts of three terms but was unable to put in full time because of inflammatory rheumatism. In January, 1920, he was asked to serve as superintendent of the Mennonite Home Mission in Chicago, which position he held until he completed his Bible school work in June, 1923. At this time he moved back to the farm and to serve the Metamora congregation for the next 31 years. He was ordained as bishop of the congregation April 16, 1941, at the request of Bishop Andrew Schrock, the senior bishop, who passed away eight years later.

Not only was he a strong spiritual leader in his own congregation to which he gave his devoted service but he was a recognized leader in his district conference and church-wide activities. At various times he served as moderator and held other responsible positions in the Illinois Conference. For a number of years he was on the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and represented his conference on the Mennonite Board of Education for 26 years, 5 years of which he served as president, 2 years as vice-president, and 11 years as treasurer. During the biennium of 1947 to 1949 he served as assistant moderator of Mennonite General Conference.

He was a devoted and loyal defender of the principles of the Word of God and the church which he represented, careful always to distinguish between principles and applications of those principles to the contemporary situation. He was quick to sense trends which might prove dangerous to the welfare of the Church and had courage to speak out against them. He was able to maintain his poise and self-composure under trying circumstances. These qualities together with a well grounded knowledge of the Bible, a good command of the English language and a gracious spirit of humility made him a valued leader in the church. It perhaps was only after his sudden passing that the church was fully aware of how much they had depended upon him.

The planning of a new church building for a period of ten years was a consuming interest, and the dedication of the excellent building on Nov. 16, 1952, adequate to meet the needs of the congregation he had helped so much to build, was one of the crowning joys of his life.

While much of his time and effort were given to the work of the church, he was devoted to his family. On June 10, 1909, he married Martha Imhoff who died May 12, 1947. Four sons were born to this union: Floyd, Russell, Robert, and Donald. At the time of his death he was associated with his youngest son Donald in the operation of a dairy farm.

On April 17, 1951, he married Ruth Springer of Hopedale, Ill., who filled an exacting position in the home and the church in an exceptionally gracious way. She later remarked that "these years together were short but we thoroughly enjoyed them. They will make the rest of my life much more meaningful."

The last Sunday that he attended the Metamora Church before going to Sarasota, Fla., for a vacation, he had the privilege of baptizing a class of converts which included the eldest of his ten grandchildren.

He is survived by his two brothers and four sisters: Manuel D., of Washington, Ill.; William, of Eureka, Ill.; Emma (Mrs. Edwin Schertz), of Metamora; Anna (Mrs. Peter R. Schertz), of Eureka Ill.; Matilda (Mrs. Walter Yoder), of Goshen, Ind.; and Alma (Mrs. Walter Smith), of Eureka, Ill.

As a testimony to his standing among men, his funeral was attended by approximately 1,200 people from every walk of life. The funeral sermon was preached by Bishop A. C. Good, with S. C. Yoder (representing the Mission Board and the Board of Education), Jesse Short, and LeRoy Kennel sharing in the service. His body was laid to rest in the Hickory Point Cemetery west of Metamora.

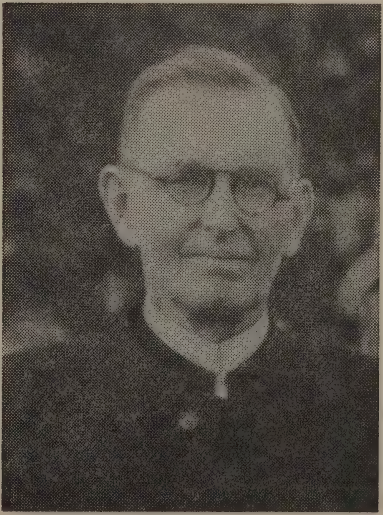
Edward J. Berkey, 1874-1954

J. R. Shank



Edward J. Berkey, familiarly called "E. J.," passed away February 15, 1954. If he had lived 29 days longer he would have reached his eightieth birthday on March 16. He was born in 1874 at Middlebury, Ind., the son of Joshua and Christiana (Blough) Berkey. His mother passed away when he was two years old and his father passed away two years later, leaving E. J. an orphan. He was cared for in foster Mennonite homes and grew up under the influence of the Mennonite Church. At the age of 15 he gave his heart to Christ and united with the congregation in Indiana where he lived.

He gave his youthful mind to a study of the Scriptures, memorizing many verses as he walked behind the plow on the farm where he lived and while performing other ordinary tasks. It was through the knowledge of the Scriptures as well as the influence of Mennonite people who cared for him that he chose to become a member of the Mennonite Church, even though his parents had been members of the Dunkard or Brethren Church. He became active in church work and intensely interested in missions along with the awakening of the church at the time of his budding manhood.

At the age of 19 he was found taking part in the Chicago Mission which had struggled in its opening at that time. While there he availed himself of the opportunity of Bible study in the Moody Bible Institute and took part in the rescue work of the Pacific Garden Mission. He also enrolled in some special courses at the Mt. Morris, Ill., College before the Academy at Elkhart was established. Appeals for his service in the Dunkard denomination were made to him; but he felt duty bound to be true to the Word of God which was more in accord with what his conscience taught him in the faith and tenets of the Mennonite Church.

He met Mary Rhodes while at the Chicago Mennonite Mission. They were married Jan. 27, 1896, and made their first home in Indiana. About the year 1900 they moved to Warrenton, Va., where he was ordained to the ministry and served a small group of believers. He also began the work of an evangelist. After the death of his wife he prepared to launch out more extensively and served in many Mennonite churches throughout the land.

It was during this period of his ministry that the writer had first contact with his service. He came to the Osage Hills and served in some of our preaching points. In later years, after his second marriage, we also had his service in Bible school work. Among the lessons in Bible study was a course on the "Tabernacle in the Wilderness" and its application to the plan of salvation through Christ. His boldness and clear strong teaching cannot be erased from our memory. He was known as an effective evangelist wherever he had been called to serve. We think of him, as he served on various occasions, as one who was firmly fixed on the teaching of the Scripture. What he saw as Scripture teaching, he fearlessly and boldly set forth. As one recalled his expression on one occasion, he was so sure of the teaching being according to the truth of the Word that he cried out, "I defy the world!"

Yet with all his positive fearlessness, Brother E. J. had a kindly sympathetic spirit that made him an effectual soul-winner. Sometimes individuals who could not understand this, nursed a feeling of hatred when his penetrating messages had uncovered their heart of sin. But we always felt sure that when E. J. was assigned an important doctrine of the Word, that he would be a staunch and able defender of the truth and settle the convictions of every honest heart.

His second marriage on Dec. 30, 1915, was to Mary Shenk of Oronogo, Mo. He established his home at this place and lived there for 36 years. He continued his evangelistic work and helped in the White Hill Church during this period, except for the last part when he suffered a stroke that confined him to his home. He regained a fairly clear mind and strength to visit with friends. With all his bodily infirmity he retained a cheerful optimism and humor, and an abiding faith, clinging to the Lord and taking an interest in the work of evangelism and the upbuilding of the cause to the end.

He had seven children by his first wife and six by his last. Mary writes of him and his children: "I do not know of a father anywhere whose children enjoyed his companionship anymore than his did, and that includes all thirteen."

Thank the Lord for the gift of such servants of the Lord. He was taken to Harrisonburg, Va., where he spent his last two years in an environment that gave him much enjoyment. But richer joys are in store in the home above.

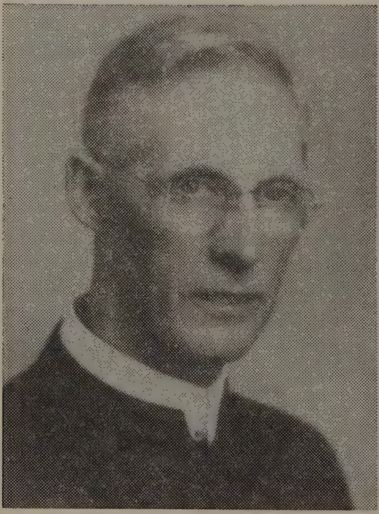
Daniel S. Oyer, 1882-1954

John S. Oyer



Daniel S. Oyer was born Dec. 5, 1882, near Meadows, Ill., the son of John P. and Mary (Smith) Oyer. His family was of Amish stock, coming from Alsace-Lorraine in the 1835-1850 migrations to Illiniois. His father was engaged alternately in farming and carpentry, with which work Daniel helped until he left home. He united with the Metamora Mennonite Church after his baptism at the age of seventeen.

In 1905 Daniel moved to Chicago, where he worked first as janitor at the Halsted Street Institutional Church, a Methodist social center and church. His motives for moving to Chicago were mixed. Because of an allergy he wanted to leave the farm in central Illinois and seek employment elsewhere. But he also felt the call of city mission work, presented to him personally by A. H. Leaman. Consequently he spent much of his time in Mennonite Home Mission activities. These included serving as Sunday-school superintendent at the 26th St. Mission, and helping at the Happy Hour Mission, a Skid Row rescue mission operated jointly by different groups of Mennonites in the city. It was in this work that Daniel received his greatest sense of direction which led him ultimately to the ministry.

In 1909 Daniel married Frances Zook, who was a worker at the Home Mission. The next year they moved to Middlebury, Ind., where Daniel worked at a creamery. The following year they moved with several other Mennonite families to Benzie County, Mich. Here they made a serious effort to establish a church, beginning with a Union Sunday School at Homestead, which they operated conjointly wit hthe Church of the Brethren. The effort failed primarily because of lack of financial support. After an interval of several years Daniel moved his family back to Illinois at the urging of a relative.

In 1919 the family moved to a farm near Ashley, Mich., where they became charter members of the Bethel Mennonite Congregation. In 1927 his wife passed away. Two years later he married Phoebe Zook. In 1926 he became a rural mail carrier, a job which took him in a few years to Howell, Mich. He remained there until he was called to be bishop of the Bethel congregation in 1943, at which time he moved to St. Johns to be near his charge. From this time until his death he worked at a variety of jobs, while devoting the majority of his time to study and visitation in the interests of the church. Of the various types of jobs he held, he enjoyed his rural mail route the most. He never seemed to tire of the mail delivery routine; indeed, he was always quick to notice the many and minute changes in the countryside through which he traveled.

One of the lay leaders of the Bethel congregation, and a close friend of Brother Dan for many years, characterizes him above all as one who was always willing to do whatever was asked of him; thus he moved to each successive task of greater responsibility with a spirit of humility and an intense desire to serve conscientiously as unto the Lord. He began teaching Sunday-school classes early, while he was at home in Illinois. He nourished this service with an intense study of the Scriptures, a study remarkable for its earnestness in one so young, and one which was destined to bear fruit in his later years of ministry. There was no frivolity in him; he did not seem to care even for the usual social gatherings of young people. He preferred instead to stay at home with his books.

Of primary importance in his religious development was the influence of Daniel's mother. She inspired her children to a diligent search of the Scriptures. In the days before the advent of Sunday evening services she regularly gathered the family around the table for Scriptural study after the Sunday evening meal. Four of her eight children entered the active service of the church.

Daniel was active in the organization of a Sunday school after the move to Ashley in 1919. By 1923 he became deacon of the Bethel congregation. In this capacity he shared preaching responsibilities with George Summer, and later with Kore Zook. In 1942 he was called to be bishop of the Bethel congregation. He was ordained on Oct. 4, 1942, by Bishop D. D. Troyer. His bishop oversight eventually included Imlay City and the Detroit Mission. Of his service to the church, John C. Wenger has this to say: "D. S. Oyer was a humble, consecrated, faithful man of God, deeply interested in the cause of Christ, and keenly interested in the life of the Mennonite brotherhood. His passing will be a real loss to the church in Michigan and to the conference as a whole."

For the last twenty years of his life, Brother Oyer was plagued by ill health. In 1951 his health deteriorated to the point where he sought to relinquish his oversight in Imlay City and Detroit. He later worked to be relieved as bishop at the Bethel congregation. His last sermon was preached in January, 1954. He passed away on September 15, 1954, after several weeks of intense suffering. The funeral service, conducted by John Landis and Ezra Beachy, was built around the thought: "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints" (Ps. 116:15), a text characteristic of Brother Dan's own attitude toward death. Prominent in the service was the singing of many of Brother Dan's favorite hymns, in place of the usual funeral hymns. Brother Oyer is survived by his wife, Phoebe; a daughter, Lois (Mrs. Carl Yoder, St. Johns, Mich.); a son, John Paul (Leetonia, Ohio); both of his parents (St. Johns, Mich.); and two brothers and three sisters.

Brother Oyer bore his suffering with great patience. Indeed, to his ward-fellows at the hospital he became "Mr. Patience." This patience was characteristic of the man, as Sunday-school teacher, deacon, preacher, and bishop: a patience coupled with an innate spirit of self-sacrifice and strengthened by years of continuous exercise. He tried earnestly to bring to each of his problems that spirit of his favorite Scripture: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4:8).

W. R. Hershberger, 1902-1954

Earl Buckwalter

Willie Raymond Hershberger, bishop for nearly thirteen years in the Sycamore Grove Church, four and one-half miles northwest of Garden City, Cass Co., Mo., quietly passed away in the Wetzel Hospital, in Clinton, Mo., Jan. 27, 1954, at the early age of 51 years, 8 months, 16 days. The immediate cause of his death was a cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered only four days earlier, and from which he never regained consciousness. He preached his last sermon to his home congregation the Sunday previous to the day he was stricken. He was fifth in the family of 4 sons and 4 daughters of Daniel and Mary Kropf Hershberger, and the first of the children to be called by death.

There were few material luxuries to be enjoyed in his growing-up years. The parental farm home was neither poor nor rich but could be called comfortable. Every member learned by experience the reward of honest and diligent toil. However, the home was characterized by a wholesome Christian piety that wore well in all kinds of weather and circumstances. Church attendance for the Hershberger family was a custom and a well-established habit, not a convenience. It paid off. All the children followed in the faith of the parents and in due time established Christian homes of their own. Three of the sons were ordained to the ministry. Elmer D., bishop at Detroit Lakes, Minn.; Owen O., copastor with the writer, at Pennsylvania Church, near Hesston, Kans.; and Raymond, the subject of the sketch. The fourth and younger brother, Harold, lives on a farm in the Sycamore Grove community and is active in church work. The sisters are: Alice (Mrs. E. C. Bowman), married to a retired minister in the same community; Mrs. Nancy Zook, of Hesston; Pearl (Mrs. Charles Greaser), also of Hesston, and Ada (Mrs. Harvey Roth), of Garden City and the Sycamore Grove community.

W. R., or Raymond, as he was generally called, was converted and baptized at the age of 12. It is reported of him that as a youth and young man he exercised himself in the activities of the Sunday school and church and served willingly. He was of good report.

When the Sycamore Grove Church needed help in the ministry, his name was in the "lot." He was ordained minister by Bishop I. G. Hartzler, April 9, 1939. He proved his capabilities well enough so that two years later when the aging Bishop Hartzler decided it was time to give some of his responsibility to a younger man, Raymond's name was again in the "lot." Bishop Alva Swartzendruber, of Hydro, Okla., was called and together the charge was given to Raymond on May 11, 1941. About two years later he was given full charge of his home congregation.

Added to this in a short time was oversight of the White Hall congregation, near Oronogo, 120 miles distant; then the Kansas City, Kansas, Argentine Church, about 60 miles distant, together with the Gospel Center on Washington Street, Kansas City, Mo., and an outstation at Morris. The Berea congregation, near Birch Tree, 260 miles away, was likewise added to his bishopric. Somehow he found time to visit these congregations besides operating a farm. However, he expressed a deep concern that he was not able properly to take care of his church work. The writer served with Raymond in church committees but never heard him complain about his lot in life. He carried on his heart a burden for his congregation.

His formal education was in the Smith rural grade school. For this limitation he expressed regret in later years. His modest library bears evidence that he did not indulge in self-pity but set himself to the task of improving the circumstances by developing mentally and spiritually.

His native ability together with the willingness to serve and a wholesome attitude of co-operation earned him a place in wider activities. In his comparatively short ministry he was elected moderator of the South Central Conference, 1949-51. He also served one term as assistant moderator and one term as associate member on the Executive Committee. He was conference delegate to the Dakota-Montana Conference in 1944 and to the North Central Conference in 1947. He took time to serve in the evangelistic field; three times in his home state, once in Iowa, and once in Kansas. He served on the Conference School Study Committee. He was appointed Counselor for I-W men of his home state. At home he served on the district school board for 8 years, or until he felt it was robbing time from his ministry.

Raymond lived in one community and on the same farm with the exception of eleven years immediately after his marriage which were spent on a farm close by. He moved back to the home place when his father retired from active farming.

On Jan. 21, 1926, he married Ida Pearl Kauffman, of the same church. They had four children: Morris, who lives close enough that he can help operate his mother's farm; Irene, wife of Alfred Yoder, Jr. in I-W service in Hannibal, Mo.; and Keith, at home. One son, Willis Raymond, died at 7 months.

"He had a vision of the future needs of the church, having a special interest in the young people and children. Like Paul, he was heard to pray for the church, 'My heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is that they might be saved.' Unknown to many he often experienced great trials and deep sorrows in his ministry but he bore them alone and without complaint" (taken from the obituary).

He was present when the Bethel Church was merged with the Sycamore Grove Church on August 10, 1947. The present membership is 252.

He was laid to rest in the Clearfork Cemetery, the site of the first Mennonite Church in the Garden City area, and one-half mile from the present church which is located in a beautifully shaded area of sycamore and oak trees. Hesston, Kansas

George B. Stoltzfus, 1909-1954

LeRoy S. Stoltzfus

George B. Stoltzfus, the son of Amos and Elizabeth Stoltzfus, was born March 27, 1909, near Malvern, Pa. He had a brother Amos, Jr.; a foster brother, Joseph B., who with three of his family died due to an auto accident; a sister, Olive (Mrs. John Ennis), who also preceded him in death; and a sister, Ruth (Mrs. Elmer Kauffman).

He accepted his Saviour at the age of eleven and was baptized and received into the Millwood congregation located near Gap, Pa.

On Nov. 26, 1931, he married Miriam Hertzler of Morgantown, Pa. The Lord blessed this home with seven children as follows: Mildred, Laura, Anna Miriam, Loretta, George, Jr., Clyde, and Eileen.

Brother George had a deep concern for the spiritual welfare of his family and witnessed their acceptance of the Saviour, with the exception of the youngest child who is not yet of accountable age.

In the year 1929 several families of this congregation were sent to the city of Coatesville to conduct Gospel services and as souls responded, a mission congregation was formed. While he was yet single he began to attend this place of service. Soon in the beginning of this work he was engaged as a teacher in the Sunday school and later also served as secretary, helping in this capacity until May 14, 1947, when he was chosen and ordained a minister of the Gospel and pastor of the congregation at Coatesville. Here he faithfully labored until the Lord called him unto Himself.

He at once gave himself wholeheartedly to this service and became an eloquent evangelistic preacher for seven short years. He also shared in a class of nominees for the office of bishop in the district when the writer was ordained in 1949.

During the last several years of his ministry he was engaged in a number of evangelistic meetings in Lancaster Conference and a few in another conference, several having been arranged for beyond his death.

Where this service was given came comments of appreciation for the clear and definite teachings that our brother would give fearlessly and earnestly. However, his greater interests were in his home congregation where he proved to be an able defender of the faith. Occasionally he would give an invitation in the regular morning service to accept Christ and on one of these times, unknown to him previously, three of his children responded to the invitation. This was one of the great joys realized in his ministry, even though they were baptized after his decease.

Brother George was also interested in Christian day schools, being a patron and chairman of the Pastoral Committee of the Parkesburg Christian Day School. He was also a trustee of Lancaster Mennonite School. His counsel was generally well received in the home, the congregation, and the district ministry.

The last service he attended was an ordination service at the Sunnyside Mission as he took with him to this service the oldest brother in his congregation, who since he had never witnessed an ordination service desired to be present. Here the last conversation was held with the writer two days before his departure. The last sermon he preached was given at the Coatesville Church on the Lord's Day previous to his death.

He appeared to be in good health on Saturday morning, July 10, 1954, when the Lord called him home. He and another brother were dusting cabbage on the Lord's Acre project which the congregation had at his home. He was stricken with a heart attack and died about 30 minutes later.

The funeral service was held July 14, 1954, at the Millwood meetinghouse with a large audience, including many ordained brethren. Those participating in the service were John A. Kennel, John E. Kennel, Elmer D. Leaman and LeRoy S. Stoltzfus, using the text, Gen. 5:24. Several additional brethren spoke briefly of a few experiences associated with our brother's life.

We bow in humble submission to our heavenly Father who doeth all things well and say, "Thy will be done," who hath chosen to reward Brother George early in his life of service. Blessed are they that die in the Lord— that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

Joshua B. Zook, 1868-1954

Oliver H. Zook

Joshua B. Zook, son of John G. and Catharine King Zook, was born Dec. 15, 1868, near Belleville, Pa. On Mar. 12, 1893 he was married to Mary Ellen Zook of Allensville, Pa. They enjoyed 61 years of married life together.

On May 14, 1905, he was ordained to the Christian ministry and faithfully served the Allensville Mennonite Church for 49 years, except for the past few years when failing health prevented him from active service for his congregation.

Brother Zook was an active member of the Eastern Amish Mennonite Conference and on a number of occasions was elected evangelist for this conference. In the early years of his ministry he was frequently used as a Bible instructor throughout the conference district.

In his young manhood he was repeatedly elected as Sunday-school superintendent and was greatly interested in all activities of the Church. In addition to his wife who survives, he leaves the following children: Mrs. D. S. (Phoebe) Oyer of St. Johns, Mich.; Chancy, of Mill Creek, Pa.; Mrs. Elmer E. (Catharine) Yoder, Huntingdon, Pa.; Anna M. and Bertha L., at home; Fannie R., Reading, Pa.

Other survivors include five brothers and three sisters: Jacob A. Zook, Springfield, Ohio, Mrs. Pius (Ella) Hostetler, Tampico, Ill.; Ira M. Zook, Portsmouth, Va.; Oliver H. Zook, Belleville, Pa.; Rev. Leo P. Zook, Blaine C. Zook, Mrs. Roy (Anna) Philips, Mrs. Harry (Carrie) Kennedy, all of Allensville, Pa. Sixteen grandchildren also survive.

Brief prayer services were held at the home with services at the Allensville Mennonite Church in charge of Bishop Raymond R. Peachey. He was assisted by J. Elrose Hartzler and Uriel S. Zook of the home congregation, and Arthur Good, of Reading, Pa. Burial was made in the Allensville Mennonite Cemetery with services in charge of Rev. A. Byron Fulton of Altoona, Pa., a nephew of the deceased.

The passing of Brother Zook on Oct. 13, 1954, brings to a close another contribution to the Mennonite Church by a faithful and useful life. It is our prayer that God may raise up another to take the place of our departed brother who so faithfully gave his life in the glad service of the Master.

NEWLY REVISED

Since its first appearance in 1944 Christian Nurture of Children has grown to the stature of a minor classic. Parents within and without Mennonite circles have been impressed with the clear Biblical philosophy it brings to the parent-child relationship.

The new revision by the author more clearly than ever now reveals this book's inherent merit. She places primary emphasis on parental attitudes as perhaps the most important factor in any child's subsequent spiritual experience. We believe Christian Nurture of Children can bring new vision and new insights into homes where little children live, or are expected.

NEWLY DESIGNED

To further enhance the new edition of Christian Nurture of Children, it has been given a completely new typographical treatment. Easier-to-read pages, better paper, a complete index, and bibliography, plus study questions make this an even more valuable book for your home or Sunday-school library, and a volume you'll want to recommend to your friends. MENNONITE YEARBOOK

Fifty cents a copy.

YOU'VE PROBABLY WISHED sometimes that some of your friends could have a church-wide Christian vision. These three Mennonite publications have been stimulating a healthy interest in a great many people about what the rest of the church is doing and thinking. Why don't you see that all your friends subscribe to these publications, indispensable to every Mennonite home. (And the total cost is less than 65 cents a month for all three items!)
